Message from Anthony W. Crowell Dean and President, New York Law School

From an enormous community of illustrious New York Law School alumni, this year we are privileged to honor four extraordinary individuals: three with the Groundbreaker Award for their embodiment of the Law School's core values, and one who is the inaugural recipient of the Dean's Award for Excellence in Leadership and Service.

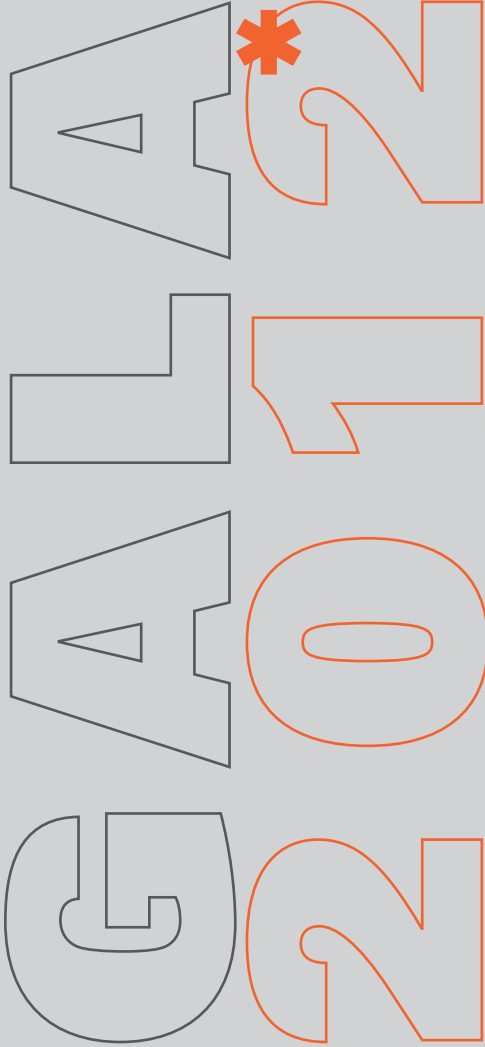

I am extremely proud to be the Dean and President of this law school, which provided the educational foundation on which Cynthia Rosicki, Gerald Crotty, Ernst Rosenberger, and Daniel Oates built their careers. In honoring them tonight, we celebrate them, the core values of the Law School, and the Law School itself for its dedication, for more than 120 years, to reinforcing these values in its students as the basis for a lifetime of service to others.

All of us who seek out a legal education do so to be part of something that is bigger than ourselves, a system of laws and adherence to them that makes everything we value possible. Cynthia Rosicki started her career representing her family and has already built two businesses that are uniquely creative, both in what they do and how they serve their customers and employees. Gerald Crotty integrates into every aspect of his life a proud family tradition of public service and an unswerving dedication to integrity and professionalism in a varied and remarkable career. Ernst Rosenberger brought from his native Germany a stark vision of the devastation that results when the rule of law is abolished, and his whole life is a testament to what happens when one man focuses his great intelligence, constant courage, and lifelong wisdom on enforcing the law and fiercely pursuing justice for a diverse society.

Daniel Oates and his department handled the tragic shootings in Aurora, Colorado, in July 2012 with expertise, dignity, and sensitivity; in response, we were inspired to create a new award this year to recognize him. Like so many of our impressive alumni, he attended the Law School while a member of the New York City Police Department. His leadership in serving his community and our country makes all of us proud.

As I begin my deanship, during times of seismic shifts in legal education and the legal profession, I am building bridges for our students from our school to careers that offer them the same opportunities for service and personal fulfillment that our honorees had. Now, as perhaps never before, there is a profusion of new paths through which lawyers can be a force for societal change, business growth, and innovation. New York Law School continues its commitment to preparing our students to go out into the world and, following in the footsteps of our honorees, change for the better every part of the world they touch.

Ernst, Jerry, Cynthia, and Dan, your stories are moving examples for us. We feel great pride in being members of your community, in joining with you in being part of something so much larger than ourselves. Thank you.

ABOUT THE HONOREES

Hon. Ernst H. Rosenberger '58 Of Counsel, Stroock & Stroock & Lavan LLP

Justice Rosenberger's long and distinguished career in the law is marked by an avowed concern for the rights of the disenfranchised. After graduation from law school in 1958, he gained extensive trial experience in state and federal courts litigating in criminal and civil cases. His strong commitment to justice led him to volunteer his services in the defense of the "Freedom Riders" arrested in 1961 in Jackson, Mississippi, and he worked on accommodation and voting rights cases throughout the South in the 1960s.

He began his long and distinguished career on the bench in 1972 as a judge of the Criminal Court in New York City, serving a concurrent term as Acting Justice of the State Supreme Court. In 1978, a year after being named a justice of the State Supreme Court, he was called to serve as Presiding Justice of the Extraordinary Special and Trial Term for the investigation of corruption in the criminal justice system. At the end of that term, in 1985, he was named Associate Justice of the Appellate Division, First Department.

Justice Rosenberger has been an adjunct professor of law at New York Law School since 1976, and has been a lecturer at Brooklyn Law School, St. John's Law School, and the New York City Police Department, among many other institutions. He is an active member of many legal committees and associations, including the New York State Bar Association's Committee to Improve the Effectiveness of the Criminal Justice System, which he chairs, and the American Bar Association's Criminal Justice Section. Justice Rosenberger is a Vice Chair on the New York Law School Board of Trustees.

Born in Hamburg, Germany in 1931, Justice Rosenberger has combined his two passions, the American legal system and his German roots, through his work as Director of the Blue Card, a self-help charitable organization for refugees from Germany. He is a graduate of City College and has a Master of Laws from the University of Virginia.

Justice Rosenberger is married to Dr. Judith B. Rosenberger, a psychoanalyst in private practice and professor at the Silberman School of Social Work at Hunter College of the City University of New York. They are the parents of John and Anne.

It is our pleasure to honor Justice Rosenberger for his exceptional commitment to justice and his devotion to New York Law School.

ABOUT THE HONOREES

Cynthia G. Senko Rosicki '86

Co-founder, Sparkling Pointe Vineyards and Winery; Founding Partner, Rosicki, Rosicki & Associates, P.C.

Cynthia G. Senko Rosicki '86 and her husband transformed a vacant 12-acre parcel of land in Long Island's North Fork into an award-winning vineyard. They are owners of Sparkling Pointe, New York State's only winery dedicated to the production of sparkling wine. They have received numerous accolades from critics. At the prestigious 2009 San Francisco Chronicle wine competition, their 2000 Brut Seduction surpassed the reputable Californian French-rooted competition; their sparkling wine earned the Best of Class and Sweepstakes Award, unequivocally placing

Long Island on the world map of sparkling wines for the first time. Sparkling Pointe was the first in New York State to receive 90 points from Wine Spectator and Wine Enthusiast for their Méthode Champenoise wines.

Ms. Rosicki is also founding partner of Rosicki, Rosicki & Associates. She is the first woman in the United States to found a law firm specializing in creditor representation in default matters. Ms. Rosicki started the law firm in the back of her parents' funeral home with the assistance of her sister, Dawn Polewac. She seized an opportunity to represent a bank in real estate matters and did it all: real estate transactions, mortgage foreclosures, bankruptcy, evictions. The firm also manages a Nationwide Attorney Network in addition to title, legal publishing, court and process service and companies.

She traveled throughout the country to develop clients, and Rosicki, Rosicki & Associates, P.C. and related companies grew to its current size of 450 employees in seven locations throughout the state with the assistance of her husband and law partner, Tom.

Upon her graduation from New York Law School in 1986, Ms. Rosicki, with the help of Career Services, developed the as-yet unheard of position of Financial Compliance Officer at Olympia & York Properties on Park Avenue while they were building Battery Park City and taking the first billion-dollar loans in history. Prior to law school, Ms. Rosicki studied, sang, and danced with Frederick Loewe of "Lerner & Loewe" fame. After attending The Royal Academy of Dramatic Art in London, she entered Adelphi University on early admission and pursued a dual major of Theatre and Business while simultaneously working as General Manager of the professional stage Calderone Theatre.

Ms. Rosicki has been committed to mentoring female and minority professionals as well as persons with disabilities, and has received numerous awards from New York State and others for her dedication to these goals. Pro bono work for senior citizens has also played a significant role in her life. She is Vice Chair of the Board of Directors of The Kosciuszko Foundation and Board Trustee of AHRC (Association for the Help of Retarded Children) Real Estate. She is also active in the organizations Help the Homeless and Gift of Life.

Ms. Rosicki and her husband reside in Muttontown and Southold, Long Island and Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, where they annually compete in Carnaval.

It is our pleasure to honor Ms. Rosicki for her dedication to innovation in the wine industry and beyond, in addition to her dedication to New York Law School.

ABOUT THE HONOREES*Daniel J. Oates '86*Chief of Police*Aurora, Colorado, Police Department

Daniel J. Oates '86, Police Chief in Aurora, Colorado, is responsible for the criminal investigation of the 2012 Century 16 movie theater shootings. He began his career with the New York Police Department in 1980. He started as a street cop in Manhattan's 19th Precinct and worked his way up the ladder while attending NYLS's Evening Division.

His early career included a broad range of assignments, from patrol in several Manhattan precincts, to teaching at the Academy, to narcotics investigations in Brooklyn and multiple assignments as an attorney.

Promoted to Captain in 1992, he served the latter half of his career as a senior executive and was a participant in the remarkable crime-reduction turnaround of the 1990s. He commanded the Legal Bureau, where he directed a law office of 80-plus attorneys. Under his leadership, the Legal Bureau initiated 1,500 actions annually in civil forfeiture and nuisance abatement as part of the NYPD's larger crime-reduction strategies. He led the successful campaign to win the Ford Foundation's 1995 Innovations in American Government Award for the NYPD's "Civil Enforcement Initiative."

By the end of his 21-year career, Chief Oates had become head of the Intelligence Division and was a member of the Police Commissioner's executive staff. He served as the NYPD's principal liaison on all security and intelligence matters to the federal government and the U.N. diplomatic community. He arranged security for the 2000 U.N. Millennium Summit, the largest gathering of world leaders in history. He finished his NYPD career as second-in-command of the city's largest patrol borough, Brooklyn South, with 3,000 officers.

Chief Oates became Police Chief in Ann Arbor in August, 2001 and was named the city's first Safety Services Administrator within a year, taking on additional supervision of the Fire Department, Emergency Management, and Code Enforcement. During his four years in Ann Arbor, he successfully led a reduction in violent crime of 24 percent and an overall crime reduction of 13 percent.

Chief Oates became Chief in Aurora in November, 2005. He has overseen a 30-percent reduction in crime in his six-plus years in office. He was recognized by his peers in 2009 with his election as President of the Colorado Association of Chiefs of Police. He is the recipient of numerous professional awards for excellence and innovation. He is also a charter member of the federal Criminal Intelligence Coordinating Council and is recognized as an expert in law enforcement intelligence matters.

Chief Oates considers the performance of the men and women of the Aurora Police Department during the Century 16 tragedy to be the proudest moment of his career. He says of that day, "My cops are the greatest. Their courage and professionalism in that crisis saved so many lives."

It is our pleasure to honor Chief Oates for his extraordinary leadership and service in law enforcement and for his dedication to New York Law School.

For over 40 years, the very best of American companies and business people have invested in Ireland and been attracted to Ireland as a location for doing business in Europe and the rest of the world in areas as diverse as energy and natural resources, pharma, financial services, technology, aircraft leasing, medical devices, science and technology.

Also Salutes

Gerald C. Crotty represents all that's best in America and American business investment overseas. Recognising the opportunities and the talent available in Ireland, Mayo Renewable Power, a wholly-owned subsidiary of Weichert Enterprise, LLC, and led by Jerry, is building a 50 megawatt (net) biomass fuelled power plant that will be Ireland's largest independent biomass power plant. The aim is to be a model for other communities throughout Ireland and Europe.

Gerald C. Crotty

As standing Irish counsel to Mayo Renewable Power, we at McCann FitzGerald know Jerry Crotty and know what he can make happen. We are delighted to salute and congratulate him on his receipt of the Groundbreaker Award from New York Law School. We are proud of our association with Jerry and his work.

To find out more about investing in Ireland and why Ireland might be the right location for your business in Europe, visit our website at www.mccannfitzgerald.ie, contact our Chairman, John Cronin, on +353 1 829 0000, or e-mail john.cronin@mccannfitzgerald.ie
