Friday

I suspect everyone & none.
I've been betrayed by those who are supposed to defend me against betrayal. In return for my efforts to clear our names & cooperate these same people have indicted me for taking my own son & now accuse me of an indictment for murder. These have become but words to me & I have since refused to exchange words with such people who have such a gross disregard for the very principles they uphold. I pray that you never return.

Yours both
M. J.
