

1-13-2021

The Wednesday Lunch Series: Conversations in Conflict Resolution

New York Law School

Follow this and additional works at: https://digitalcommons.nyls.edu/adr_events

THE WEDNESDAY LUNCH SERIES

Conversations in Conflict Resolution

We are pleased to announce the fourth series of this popular event. Every other Wednesday, New York Law School will continue to host informal discussions with leaders in the fields of conflict avoidance, management, and resolution. All sessions are free and will be held via Zoom at 1:00 p.m. EST.

January 13, 2021

RSVP: www.nyls.edu/ADRwed1

Lela Love is a professor at the Kukin Program for conflict resolution at Benjamin N. Cardozo School of Law. Professor Love is a mediator, an arbitrator, and a dispute resolution consultant in community, employment, family, human rights, school-based and commercial cases. She will discuss the state of the field and share anecdotes from her book, Stories Mediators Tell.

January 27, 2021

RSVP: www.nyls.edu/ADRwed2

Jennifer Reynolds is an associate professor and serves as the director of the ADR Center at the University of Oregon School of Law. She will share her work on ADR systems design and its relationship to activism and social change.

February 10, 2021

RSVP: www.nyls.edu/ADRwed3

Eileen Carroll is a British mediator with over 20 years of experience as a full-time practitioner. Co-founder of the Centre for Effective Dispute Resolution, she is a pioneer in mediation techniques in the United Kingdom. She will share her take on the state of mediation in the U.K. and Europe, and what trends she sees for the future of cross-border mediation.

February 24, 2021

RSVP: www.nyls.edu/ADRwed4

Colin Rule is the CEO of Mediate.com. He previously served as the director of online dispute resolution at eBay and PayPal, and now works at the intersection of conflict resolution and technology. He will discuss delivery of dispute resolution services in unfamiliar modes, and his book, New Handshake, which discusses such disputes between businesses and consumers, as a result of e-commerce.

Sponsored by General Electric Company

WE ARE NEW YORK'S LAW SCHOOL

Since 1891