Queens County Hearing Key Takeaways: The Queens County public hearing took place on November 17, 2021, and lasted 6.5 hours. The majority of concerns were about not dividing communities and maintaining communities of interest. There were also concerns raised about a potential majority Asian district reflecting the growth in this population and maps reflecting the growth in the Latinx community. Concerns were raised to keep Queens districts separate from Long Island. Many testifiers were in support of the Unity Maps proposed by the Unity Map Coalition
