

3-30-2009

The Updated Facebook Policy: Who Owns Your Posted Information?

New York Law School

Institute for INFORMATION LAW & POLICY
at New York Law School

in conjunction with the American Intellectual Property
Law Association

present:

The Updated Facebook Policy: Who Owns Your Posted Information?

Speaker

Martin Schwimmer
Moses & Singer LLP

Monday, March 30, 2009

6:00–7:30 p.m.

Wellington Conference Center,
C Building, 5th Floor

Light refreshments will be served.

Martin Schwimmer will speak on the legal issues surrounding the updated Facebook policy, and how the new policy could impact Facebook users.

Schwimmer is a partner in Moses & Singer's Intellectual Property practice, representing Fortune 500 companies as well as social media start-ups. His practice is concentrated in the area of U.S. and international copyright law, trademark law, and domain name counseling, prosecution, and litigation. Managing Intellectual Property magazine identified Schwimmer as one of the best trademark lawyers in the United States. He also publishes The Trademark Blog (www.schwimmerlegal.com)—widely recognized as a leading source of trademark news and case analysis—which was listed on the ABA Journal's "Blawg 100" for 2007.

For more information, please e-mail vivian.tseng@law.nyls.edu.
RSVP to naomi.allen@nyls.edu. Seating is limited.