ELIZABETH HUGHES GOSSETT

Dynamic community leader and devoted servant and protector of the public good, the legacy of the law is deeply enmeshed in the character of Elizabeth Hughes Gossett, daughter of the legendary Charles Evans Hughes, Chief Justice of the United States, and once a distinguished Professor of Law at New York Law School in its early formative years. A graduate of Barnard College, the interests of Elizabeth Gossett are numerous. Countless organizations have benefitted from her keen intellect and rare gift for administration. Indeed, the lives of many thousands of individuals have been touched by her compassion and her ability to seek out meaningful solutions to difficult socio-economic problems.

As the crises and challenges of the world and this great city reach out to touch the lives of all who dwell therein, the citizens of the Empire State are fortunate in the strength of leadership demonstrated by its junior United States Senator, Daniel Patrick Moynihan.

Born in Oklahoma, but raised and educated in New York City, Senator Moynihan entered the City College of New York in 1943, only to withdraw in the service of his country in 1944 to enlist in the United States Navy.
