INNOVATE / ACTIVATE

An Unconference on Intellectual Property and Activism

September 24–25, 2010 • New York Law School

Join the Institute for Information Law & Policy for “Innovate / Activate, An Unconference on Intellectual Property and Activism,” where we will explore the ways in which intellectual property can be used to help improve global welfare. This event will provide a forum for students, professionals, and activist organizations from around the world to come together and share their ideas and experiences in order to revolutionize the landscape of activism. Come join in the discussion.
