International Perspectives on Copyright Reform

Tuesday, March 27, 2012

6:00 p.m.—8:00 p.m.

Faculty Commons, W203

185 W. Broadway

Is current U.S. copyright law effectively dealing with online piracy? What laws have countries such as France, the United Kingdom, and Spain implemented to address the piracy issue? Has anyone found the solution?

Our program will address various international approaches to copyright law regulation as a means to combat piracy. Our discussion will focus on recent legislation such as HADOPI (three strikes) in France, the now-abandoned PIPA/SOPA in the United States, Sinde Law in Spain, as well as international treaties such as ACTA. Panelists will compare the effectiveness of these approaches and the impact that it has on curbing online piracy.
