

2-7-2011

Out of the Ashes: 9/11

New York Law School

Eleven days after the terrorist attack, the federal government put in place the largest public entitlement program—the 9/11 Victim Compensation Fund—to deal with this tragedy. Seven families explore the legal, moral, and ethical ramifications of the Fund and its impact on the civil justice system.

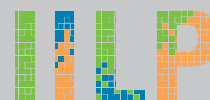

Out of the Ashes: 9/11

A documentary film by Professor Marilyn J. Berger, Films for Justice, Seattle University School of Law.

Monday, February 7, 2011
185 West Broadway, Room W120
12:00–2:00 p.m.
Pizza will be served.

The screening will be introduced by Professor Richard K. Sherwin.
Professor Berger will be present to answer questions after the screening.

RSVP to naomi.allen@nyls.edu by February 1, 2011.

Institute for INFORMATION LAW & POLICY
at New York Law School