Librarians Join NYLS's 30-year Club

Congratulations and thank you to librarians Harold Dramer and Leslie Kanocz, who marked their 30th year with The New York Law School in 1992. They began working in the library when it was still located on Williams Street, and have witnessed the enormous growth the library has gone through over the past three decades.

Mr. Dramer has performed just about every task in the library, and is the assistant serials librarian, as well as the "unofficial historian" of the Law School.

Mr. Kanocz has served the Law School community in numerous capacities -- from documents librarian to circulation librarian to his current position of reference librarian.

Mr. Dramer and Mr. Kanocz were both honored at the Staff Appreciation Luncheon in May.
