THE MULTINATIONAL ENTERPRISE AS GLOBAL CORPORATE CITIZEN EXAMINED

Multinational enterprises (MNE) have emerged as major innovators leading the world towards a globalized economy. Questions have been raised concerning the MNE as global corporate citizen. What contribution is being made to economic development? Who are the beneficiaries? What have been the cultural, environmental, human, political, and social consequences?

These and related questions will be addressed at "The Multinational Enterprise as Global Corporate Citizen," a symposium on Mon., Nov. 27, 2:30-5 pm, Wellington Conference Center.

Sponsored by the Center for International Law and the NYLS Journal of International and Comparative Law, the panel will feature experts from a variety of fields: Jose E. Alvarez, professor of law, Columbia Law School; James L. Gunderson, general counsel, Schlumberger Limited; John R. MacArthur, publisher, Harper's Magazine and author of The Selling of "Free Trade": NAFTA, Washington, and the Subversion of American Democracy; and Steven R. Ratner, the Albert Sidney Burleson Professor in Law, University of Texas Law School and visiting professor of law, Columbia Law School. Prof. Ratner also is the author of Accountability for Human Rights Atrocities in International Law.

Sydney M. Cone, III, the C.V. Starr Professor of Law and director of the NYLS Center for International Law, will moderate the program.

Admission is free. The symposium also is approved for 2.5 MCLE credit hours in professional practice. For details, contact Michael Rhee, 431-2865.

Annual AALS alumni reception set

Asian American Law Students Association will sponsor the Annual AALS Alumni Reception on Thurs., Nov. 9, 7-9 pm, Wellington Conference Center. All are welcome.

A memo to first-year students

During Advance Week, we began efforts aimed at helping to understand the demands of law school and expectations of the legal profession. We will be continuing these efforts with sessions addressing a variety of important topics. The next stage involves a series of required sessions for all first-year students to meet with representatives from the New York State Bar Association Lawyers Assistance Program (LAP). Attorneys from the NYSBA LAP will address substance abuse among lawyers, with concomitant attention to ethical concerns. They will also discuss stress management methods.

The dates and times of meetings for each Day Division section are listed below.

- Section A: Thurs., Nov. 30, 9-10:40 am, room A900.
- Section B: Wed., Nov. 29, 2-3:40 pm, room A300.
- Section C: Wed., Nov. 15, 2-3:40 pm, room A900.

A session for Evening Division students will be scheduled during the spring semester.

Attendance will be taken at the sessions.

—Dean Richard A. Matasar

Dean's special hours for students noted

- Walk-in hours for evening students are Wed., Nov. 8, 5-8 pm.
- Call-in hour for all students is Fri., Nov. 17, 11-12 pm. Call 431-2840.

Ramadan discussion set

Ramadan, the Muslim month of fasting, begins around Nov. 27 and ends around Dec. 26 this year. Join Prof. Sadiq Reza on Wed., Nov. 15, 1-2 pm, room A500 for an informal discussion of issues raised by Ramadan and law study and practice.

All students, faculty and staff are welcome. RSVP: Doris Alcivar, 431-2143, or by e-mail at dalcivar@nyls.edu.

Fourth Annual Sports Law Symposium set

The Fourth Annual Sports Law Symposium, presented by NYLS and the New York Bar Association, will be held on Fri., Nov. 10, 9:30 am-4:30 pm, Ernst Stiefel Reading Room.

The symposium brings together experts with vast experience in the field of sports law.

The 10 am panel will focus on "Legal Ethics and Athlete Representation. Featured panelists are Richard Berthelsen, general counsel, NFL Players Association; Theodore Curtis, professor of sports administration, Lynn University; Craig E. Fenech, The Sparta Group, Inc., and Richard Moss, player-agent. The moderator will be announced.

At 11:30 am, "New Media in Sports and the Law" will feature Paul Startz, vice president and general counsel, Quokka Sports, Inc., and William A. Tanenbaum of Kaye, Scholer, Fierman, Hays & Handler, LLP. Jeffrey B. Gewirtz, director of legal affairs at Meridian Management SA/IOC will moderate the discussion.

The keynote address (speaker tba) will be given during lunch.

The day will conclude with a 2:15 pm discussion on "Developments in Sports Arbitration," moderated by Jeffrey A. Rosenthal of Cleary, Gottlieb, Steen & Hamilton. Panelists are L. Robert Batterman of Proskauer Rose LLP; Francis X. Connelly, vice president & general labor counsel, Major League Baseball Commissioner's Office; David Feher of Weil Gotshal & Manges LLP; Roger Kaplan, sports arbitrator; and Eugene Orza, associate general counsel, Major League Baseball Players Association.

Students are welcome at no charge. There is a $10 charge for lunch.

RSVP: Eileen Quinn, 431-2870.

Students invited to roundtable discussion

The Communications Media Center will host Jake Trobe's "Telecommunications and Information Algonquin Roundtable" on Thurs., Nov. 9, at noon, Boardroom, third floor, Mendik Library.

Students are invited to hear guests from the journalism, publishing, investment banking, academia, business, government, law, traditional broadcasting, and telecommunications and information technology fields. Selected guests will comment on timely issues. A discussion will follow.

Jacob Trobe has been involved in the telecommunications and information revolution since his retirement in 1977. In 1981 he founded the weekly television series, "The Telecommunications and Information Revolution." He has also served as host of the Communications Media Center's "Media Reporter" series. Since 1980, Mr. Trobe has served as a senior associate of the Communications Media Center of New York Law School. He also is the executive director of the Division of Telecommunications in the Public Interest for the Center for Media Law.

Lunch will be served. For further information, contact Anna Abrigo at 431-2163, or e-mail your name, academic year, and phone number to aabrigo@nyls.edu.

Exams and answers available on Intranet

All provided exams, answers, analysis, and memos are available to students via the NYLS Intranet. Students may access this semester's and past semesters' exams online by clicking on the Library button on the Intranet and following the link to "Sample and Practice Exams." Note: All paper exam materials on reserve in the Library may be accessed at any time via the Intranet.

First-year exam packets also are available on the Library's Intranet site and are also on sale in the Library. The Intranet is continuously updated as materials are made available.
